First Blizzard Of Winter Sweeping Across Nation

FARMERS IN MIDWEST IN HAPPY MOOD

Abundance of Moisture Is Assured For Crops in Spring; Many Suffering From Snow In California

San Francisco Experiences Coldest Weather Reported in Over 60 Years

WINTER'S FIRST blizzard mangled the nation with snow today and added new episodes to the saga of man's endless fight against the elements. Snow fell from California to the Rocky Mountains where record low temperatures were reported to the Atlantic seaboard. Virtually the entire northern half of the country felt the storm's rigors. Most dramatic of the incidents growing out of the storm was the fight of a five-man coast guard crew which rode out the gales that whipped Lake Erie into fury. In the face of a blinding snowstorm the guardsmen fought their way back to a Marblehead, O., base from West Sister Island where they had gone to bring back the body of Frank Ryan, a hunter accidentally shot Friday. The guardsmen had reached the little island whose only inhabitant is Lighthouse Keeper George Gantner before the storm broke. Trapped in small cutters, fears were felt for the men's safety. Additional cutters ordered to the men's aid were forced back to port. Finally Pilot Milton (Red) Hersberger of Put-in-Bay flew through the blizzard and observed the cutters huddled safely in the lee of the island waiting until the waves die down. Late last night

ROLPH WILL PARDON 200 ON WEDNESDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—(UP)—Decision of California voters to repeal the state liquor laws will result in freedom Wednesday for 200 state liquor law violators. Pardons were ready today for the signatures of Governor James Rolph. The clemency acts will liberate all liquor law violators in the 58 California counties. No pardons will be issued to violators serving terms in San Quentin and Folsom prisons. "I will sign the pardons Wednesday as soon as the vote repealing the Wright act (state prohibition law) is certified," said the governor, who flew here through a snowstorm last night from Sacramento to make a public appearance.

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 12. (To the Editor of The Register:) Big football game—100,000 of us sit there in the cold and pick up what little pneumonia there was left. Give a Californian a football or an Orange and he knows more things to do with it than a Harvard guy does a dictionary. Notre Dame had a fine team but after taking one look at that California line should have started 'em throwing forward passes before they got off the train. I would have sent players up in the stands to grab off passes. Pittsburgh is coming out to play this team New Year's in what we humorously call our "Rose Bowl." Well, it's a nice trip out here and California will play their Chamber of Commerce against 'em the first half. Would have brought Colgate, but everybody out here thought they was a toothpaste team off the radio. Yours, WILL ROGERS.

BABY BURNED TO DEATH AS TRUCK CRASHES INTO HOME

IN A SPECTACULAR accident near San Juan Capistrano yesterday morning, a 24-day-old baby boy was burned to death when an oil truck crashed into the home of the boy's father, Emil Stoeffel, a mile south of San Juan Capistrano, overturned and set fire to the building. The father and mother were in the front part of the house at the time, the baby sleeping peacefully in a bedroom at the rear. Five other children also were in the house. The parents rushed outdoors at the sound of the crash and saw the building a mass of flames. Five other children were saved but the heat and flames made rescue of the sixth child impossible and the baby, Herbert Adolph Stoeffel, burned to death while his parents looked helplessly on. The house was soon destroyed, the family losing everything. It was reported. The accident and the resultant fire attracted hundreds of motorists, but it was not until late yesterday that the charred remains of the babe were found. They were taken to the Roy Divel funeral parlors at San Clemente. Earl Abbey, coroner, announced today he would hold an inquest over the body at the Divel parlors at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. The oil truck was being driven at the time by J. W. Nickelson, of 2101 Gundry avenue, Long Beach. He and a passenger on the truck, Morris Lerer, of 823 Twenty-seventh street, San Francisco, escaped injury by jumping from the truck after it swerved from the road and plunged through a ditch towards the house. Nickelson told officers that he swerved his truck from the road in an attempt to dodge another truck which had skidded in front of him. This truck was driven by Thomas Rosenfeld, 6459 Eighth avenue, Los Angeles. He reported his machine skidded off the highway and was wrecked in a ditch at the other side of the road. He was not hurt. FEDERAL STATE OFFICIAL GETS OLD POST BACK

Dudley Moulton Reappoints George York Following Rolph Conference

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 12.—(UP)—George York, ousted chief of the Federal-State Marketing News Service, today was reinstated in his position by Dudley Moulton, director of the state department of agriculture. The action was announced by Moulton, following a conference with Governor Rolph, in which the governor disclosed a letter received from Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, which said: "Mr. Nils A. Olsen, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, has placed before me a statement of the facts bearing upon this situation. "It appears to me his objections to the action taken and the attitude shown by Director Moulton are well founded. Leading agricultural interests in California

BATTLE FLEET OFF ON MANEUVERS TRIP

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Dec. 12.—(UP)—Approximately 100 of Uncle Sam's fighting ships steamed out of the harbor today for their final maneuvers of 1932. The fleet incepted a three day program of tactical exercises that virtually approached actual warfare. One night maneuver was understood to be planned with the cruiser squadron attempting to launch a surprise attack on the battle force. The cruiser squadron was to be aided by aircraft and destroyers. The "battle" will be continued through the next day, it was said. After the exercises have been completed, the fleet will divide forces and return to San Pedro and San Diego for the Christmas holidays. The vacation will come to an end on January 3 when all units of the Pacific coast fleet unite for the annual war games with the scouting force setting out for Honolulu.

HEALTH OFFICERS PLAN FOR MEETING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 12.—(UP)—Doctors, health officers and social workers from 25 Northern California counties will assemble in Sacramento January 21 for a California White House conference on child health and protection, according to plans laid today. The meeting, called by Governor Rolph, is the second on four other meetings scheduled throughout the state. Others will be at Los Angeles January 14, Fresno January 28, and Oakland February 4. The main purpose of the conferences is to make a statewide survey of health and welfare of California children and gather complete information as to the best methods for their protection. President Robert G. Sproul of the University of California will preside at each of the sessions.

BRITISH DEBT PAYMENT STILL HELD DOUBTFUL

Secretary Stimson Refuses Britain's Payment on Proposed Terms

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(UP)—A fundamental clash between British and American views on war debts today placed in doubt the payment of $95,550,000 that London owes on December 15. In an exchange of notes last night, Britain offered payment as an advance on a future debt settlement. Secretary of State Stimson refused it on those terms. He held that the 1923 debt agreement must be kept intact until properly revised. Officials believed that Britain would not default because it would endanger its own national credit standing. Representative Treadway, Democrat, Massachusetts, raised that issue in the House, holding the United States could not accept payment from Britain on the terms offered. The state department made public the debt note delivered by Lithuania last Saturday. It pleaded poverty and declared that Lithuania received no actual, but only advances of goods from the United States. Lithuania asked for fundamental revision of its debt and postponement of the December payment of $92,000. Stimson objected today to press reports which told of laughter ringing out from his office yesterday as he and Secretary of Treasury Mills drafted their reply to the British note. He wanted it understood that they regarded their task seriously and did not take London's communication in a light vein.

RAILWAY WORKERS CONSIDER REQUEST

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—(UP)—The country's railroads today asked union employees to accept a continuation of the 19 per cent wage reductions. The proposal was made by nine members of the Railway Managers' association, conferring at the Palmer House with 1500 union leaders over the wage scale to the reduction accepted one year ago will expire. Though A. E. Whitney, chairman of the railway labor executives, had indicated the unions would oppose any extension as "bleeding white the fading buyer power of the people," the unions' reply was delayed. The meeting recessed until 2:30 p. m., giving the unions time to consider their answer.

JEWEL BANDITS ARE SOUGHT BY POLICE

LONG BEACH, Calif., Dec. 12.—(UP)—Three "jewel" bandits were hunted by police today after they had struck a girl who opened the door to meet them, bound three women and escaped after stripping their victims of $5500 in jewelry. The midnight robbery was reported by Mrs. Thomas Lewis, wife of a wealthy Oklahoma land owner, who said the gunmen beat Miss Alice Copes with their fists after she had responded to their knock. The bandits gagged and bound Mrs. Lewis and two women companions with electric light cord and curtains. After robbing their victims, the robbers ransacked the house but no money was reported stolen.

REPEAL MEASURES SENT TO COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(UP)—The senate judiciary committee today referred all measures before it relating to repeal of the 18th amendment or modification of the dry laws to a sub-committee headed by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, a militant wet. Blaine said he would call the committee at the earliest moment to consider various resolutions for repeal and a bill allowing physicians greater latitude in issuing liquor prescriptions. He indicated there would be no hearing unless a majority of the committee insisted.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd will hang Feb. 17, the Arizona supreme court ruled today. Mrs. Judd was found guilty by a jury early this year of murdering Mrs. Agnes Ann Lerol, her one-time roommate and associate. She had been sentenced to hang last May 11, but her appeal automatically suspended the judgment.

TECHNOCRACY HOPE OF AGE ASSERTS REV. P. F. SCHROCK IN SUNDAY MORNING TALK

Discussing "Technocracy" in his morning sermon at the First Congregational church yesterday, the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, declared it is the hope of the age, "the most encouraging thing that I have heard in my life time." "Technocracy means that there is possible for us an era and happy that the world has ever known. All the material needs of all the people can be supplied for the adult population—people from 25 to 45 years of age—working four hours per day, four days per week. This would provide a standard of living for the entire population 10 times above the average standard of 1929." The Rev. Mr. Schrock's sermon follows in full: "A new word has come into everybody's saying it, technocracy. We are acquainted with such words as democracy, autocracy, plutocracy, bureaucracy, technocracy, or a technological way of life. The word originated with a group of engineers. Associated in this group have been such men as Howard Scott, engineer and technician for Muscle Shoals; the late Charles P. Steinmetz, electrical wizard; Bessett Jones, electrical engineer, the late Thronsten Vahlen, economist; Frederick Lee Ackerman, architect; Dr. Richard Tolman, eminent physicist of California Institute of Technology. This group began in 1918. For the past eighteen months of energy expended in have been working steadily. The group now numbers three hundred and fifty people who are scattered all over the world. The headquarters of the group is in Columbia University, New York. "These engineers have plotted on charts, the agricultural and industrial development of the United States for the last 100 years. They have studied and charted three thousand commodities. The charts show the amount of energy expended in production, the number of men employed and the hours of labor, the volume of production per year with the rate of production and the decline of man power needed. As a result of this study these 'technocrats' predicted the present depression to arrive in the year 1930. It actually arrived in October of 1929. (Continued on Page 2)

EMBEZZLER OF MILLION ENDS LIFE IN CELL TWO DETAINED IN LONG BEACH YACHT MURDER

Colorado Banker Hangs Self in N. Y. While He Waits Extradition

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(UP)—Walter Clyde Davis, 50, until last June a wealthy and influential Colorado banker, committed suicide in his cell at police headquarters today while awaiting extradition on charges of embezzling $1,000,000. He was charged with taking the money from the Colorado Springs Building and Loan association of which he was president. He had been arrested by detectives who saw his picture in a detective story magazine. A turnkey making his rounds saw Davis moving above a strip of metal between the two doors to his cell. He thought he was standing on the door frame. "Don't ride that door," he commanded. Davis didn't answer. The turnkey then saw he was hanging from a noose he had made from his necktie and suspended from a higher bar. Davis left no note. He had been living in a Gramercy Park apartment under his own name. He took his arrest calmly. "I'm glad it happened," he said. "I know it had to be. I was thinking about giving myself up any day." Davis talked glibly of returning home and making restitution. Police did not suspect he considered suicide, hence they did not watch him any closer than they did the other prisoners. Davis told police he had signed his rights to $600,000 worth of Colorado real estate for friends to make what restitution was possible. He had $200 which he said was all that was left of a once large fortune. Davis' wife and daughter live in Colorado Springs. His daughter is a lawyer.

TWO REPORTED LOST IN SMALL VESSEL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—(UP)—Fears for the safety of U. H. Tatman, Los Angeles, and R. S. McDowell, Pasadena, were felt here today when police learned the men have been missing since Saturday when they set out on a hunting excursion in a boat. The pair hired a boat at a Sea-view service station and started across Salton sea shortly before a high wind sprang up, local officers were advised by Sheriff George L. Campbell of El Centro. The seas continued rough through yesterday when authorities became apprehensive that the boat had been capsized. Mrs. Tatman said her husband planned on returning early Sunday.

ALBERT OLSON AND WIFE WIN APPEAL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—(UP)—L. Albert Olson and his wife, Libbie, convicted of the murder of Charles J. Saul, wealthy engraver, were granted a new trial on the grounds of insufficiency of evidence, by three judges sitting en banc here today. The decision reversing the conviction was handed down by Superior Judges William Tull Aggeler, B. Rey Schauer and Isaac Pachet. It was Judge Pachet who had found the pair guilty and decided upon life imprisonment for them after hearing the case without jury. At the trial's conclusion, he had announced that never again would he act as judge and jury where murder was involved, so requested the aid of two other jurists in deciding new trial pleas. Immediately after the decision today, Judge Pachet consulted with his associates and denied a motion to dismiss the charges against the Olsons.

ARGUMENTS PUT BEFORE COMMITTEE

Say Widespread Drunkenness Would Follow Modification Of Law DENY CLAIMS OF WETS

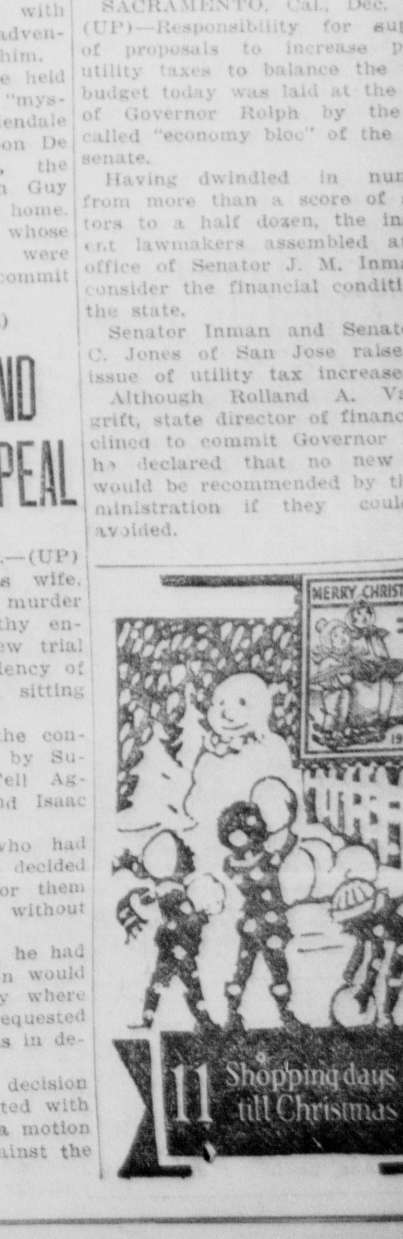

Estimates of Anti-Prohibitionists Challenged By Leader of Ten Million

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(UP)—Members of the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement raised their voices in the halls of Congress today to denounce legalization of beer as a measure which would bring widespread drunkenness in its wake, imperil their children and enslave the brewers at the expense of the nation's moral and economic welfare. The witnesses, led by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, claimed to represent 16,000,000 organized women. They presented medical testimony denying the claim of wets that 2.75 or 3 per cent beer is non-intoxicating. They challenged also the estimates of anti-prohibitionists as to the amount of revenue a beer tax would yield. The women opened the dry argument against modification before the House ways and means committee, which last week heard proponents of beer and wine. They are to be followed by heads of other leading dry organizations who are meeting here to help the Anti-Saloon league. Mrs. Peabody sounded the keynote of the women's argument: "We have only one desire—to protect our Constitution, that supreme law, that it may continue to protect our homes and children and communities." Beer caused 99 per cent of pre-prohibition drunkenness, they charged. Regarding the intoxicating qualities of 2.75 per cent beer, she quoted Dr. Howard A. Kelly of Johns Hopkins Medical school, Baltimore. "My earnest conviction is that one half of one per cent is the safe limit for alcohol in beverages." Mrs. Peabody said that for beer to bring in the revenue claimed by wets, "everybody, men, women and

NO NEW TAXES ARE PLANNED BY STATE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 12.—(UP)—Responsibility for support of proposals to increase public utility taxes to balance the state budget today was laid at the door of Governor Rolph by the state senate. Having dwindled in numbers from more than a score of senators to a half dozen, the insurgent lawmakers assembled at the office of Senator J. M. Inman to consider the financial condition of the state. Senator Inman and Senator H. C. Jones of San Jose raised the issue of utility tax increases. Although Rolland A. Vandergift, state director of finance, declined to commit Governor Rolph, he declared that no new taxes would be recommended by the administration if they could be avoided.

SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

ONE DEAD AND 12 INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

Mystery was injected into a midnight accident, Saturday, at the south city limit of Laguna Beach on Coast Highway, when four and possibly five persons were injured as two cars kiddie together on the slippery roadway and a third car is reported to have sideswiped one of the others. According to Clyde H. Smith of 185 Dumond drive, close to where the accident happened, the driver of the third car was covered with blood, but being injured, he had not been learning that the car had not been badly damaged, and drove away.

No one reported at the local hospital or any of the doctor's offices for treatment, and the drivers of the two cars failed to report a third car involved. Alfred J. Albert, who first reported the accident to the police, said he was a witness and told of a third car being involved, but left town before a full report could be obtained from him.

Those injured, all slightly, were Mrs. Ethel Weller, 28, 64 Ventura street, Long Beach, wrenched leg; Mrs. Marjorie Smotherman, 19, same address, cut hand; Mrs. Carey Brooch, 56, 1206 East Fifty-eighth street, Los Angeles, cuts on wrist; Bibbie Wimberly, 10 years old, same address, cut on head.

Mrs. Weller was driving one car and William B. Wimberly of 1200 East 58th street, Los Angeles, the other. The brake on the left hand front wheel of his car locked, according to the police report and his car skidded 120 feet.

Sailor Escapes
C. F. Raymond, sailor on the U. S. S. "North", which is at present stationed at San Diego, narrowly escaped serious injury when the car that he was driving through Newport Beach on his way to San Francisco, sideswiped an electric light pole along the Coast highway in Corona Del Mar, breaking the pole off and considerably damaging the auto.

Raymond escaped with all scratches and bruises, but the auto had to be taken to a garage for repairs before resuming his journey.

Raymond stated at police headquarters here that his car left the road as he was making an effort to evade hitting another car.

Two persons were injured at Costa Mesa yesterday afternoon at 4:30 p. m. when cars driven by F. G. Hawkins, 29, of 708 West Main street, Tustin, and Gale Ann Lane, 17, of Costa Mesa, Route No. 1, collided.

Mrs. Lane was treated for cuts and bruises and Donald F. Hawkins, 6, riding with F. G. Hawkins was reported injured.

Gene W. Hess, of 1024 West Third street, was injured at Fifth and Barton streets at 12:15 p. m. yesterday when the car he was driving collided with a car operated by A. W. Martin, of 814 Cypress street, it was reported to police.

Mrs. Ruth Watson, wife of A. B. Watson, of 657 North Tustin avenue, and Irene Crosby, of Detroit, Mich., riding with her at the time were both given first aid treatment at the Orange county hospital at 9:55 p. m. Saturday, following a crash with a machine driven by A. H. Lapham, of 415 West Broadway, Glendale, in the 1100 block on West Seventeenth street.

Removed to Home
Santa Ana police answered the call and took the two women to the hospital. They later were removed to their homes.

Two Mexicans were taken to the Orange county hospital yesterday afternoon following an automobile accident in Orange in which their car overturned, it was reported.

They were: Tony Ybarra, 28, Santa Ana, Route No. 4, cuts on the face and chin and two teeth knocked out, and Alfonso Corvantes, 21, of 124 North Olive street, Orange, scalp injury.

J. F. Fonseca, 22, of Santa Ana, Route No. 4, was treated at the Orange county hospital yesterday for cuts above the right eye, and on the right side of the face. He later went home.

TWO DETAINED IN LONG BEACH YACHT MURDER

themselves as to whether they could identify De Larm as the man seen near the Carina. Members of the co-operative crew, bound for a south sea adventure when Wanderwell was killed, said they had never seen De Larm.

Police said one of the Glendale boys, Tommy Bridgeford, admitted he had fabricated a story designed to lead Guy's alibi because "I kind of liked him." The boy's reputation of a previous story that he saw Guy asleep when he visited the De Larm house "materially weakened" the murder suspect's alibi, detectives claimed.

"I knew he wasn't home but I didn't want to tell," Bridgeford was quoted as saying. "I accidentally stepped into Guy's room and saw that 'Curly' was not there, as he says he was."

Aid of San Francisco authorities was asked in an investigation into Guy's antecedents. Police were skeptical of his story that he fled the De Larm home the morning after the murder because he was afraid immigration authorities would trouble him for entering the United States illegally. It was intimated Guy might be an American citizen, although he claimed to have been born in Cardiff, Wales, 22 years ago.

San Francisco police were asked to check birth records of 23 and 24 years ago to determine if the names of "William J. Guy" or "William J. Stelmor" were listed. No reason was given for confining the search to San Francisco.

San Mateo officers were asked to check the activities of Guy and De Larm, assertedly together there not long ago in an aviation venture.

The calm, cool courage of Mrs. Aloha Wanderwell, widow of the slain globe trotter, broke last night after a two hour questioning into her knowledge of Guy's past life. She collapsed in a faint outside the office of Deputy Prosecutor Clarence Hut, but was revived by police surgeons and returned to the Carina.

Authorities said they learned little from her beyond a repetition of charges that Guy had been discharged by Wanderwell at Panama on an earlier voyage for allegedly attempting to incite mutiny among the crew. This Guy had denied, charging that Wanderwell abandoned him and his wife, and caused them to "go through hell."

The fantastic career of Wanderwell, promoter of an "International police force" organizer of expeditions to various parts of the world and World War spy was to end today with funeral services at sea.

His body, wrapped in an American flag, was to be lowered into the waves off this harbor at noon in accordance with his wishes, as expressed by his widow.

Long Beach police gave permission for the Carina to leave its mooring for the services, but stipulated that officers would be aboard to assure return of the vessel and its crew, members of which, while not in custody, have been under close surveillance since the crime.

WOMEN RAISE OBJECTION TO BEER MEASURE

children, would have to drink several gallons weekly."

Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, widow of the late noted food and drug expert, quoted him as follows in regards to 2.75 per cent beer:

"In my opinion I have no doubt of that fact (that it is intoxicating). It may even, as I have seen in my own experience, produce the third degree of intoxication, namely drunkenness."

Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army struck at the argument that restoration of brewing would help restore prosperity in testimony read by Mrs. Peabody.

"Dollars cannot propitiate strong drink's eternal sin," she was quoted as saying. "Prosperity can never balance its featureless influence."

To aid the brewers in any possible way is to surely betray the highest and noblest in American ideals."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the New York W. C. T. U., said the brewers would gain $800,000,000 for every $200,000,000 the government received in a beer tax. "These millions of dollars would be subtracted from expenditures for legitimate commodities, all kinds of business would suffer. The masses have only a limited amount to spend, and if it is spent for liquor, it cannot be spent for food and clothing."

Mrs. William L. Darby of Washington pointedly reminded the committee that women compose "one half of the electorate" and left these words ringing in the congressmen's ears:

"Through the power of God and prayer the women will win."

Not Political
"Technocracy is making public information that ought to command our careful and prayerful attention. It makes very clear that the cause of this depression is not political but technological. It is relatively easy to prove that statement. Let us notice that technology has done to industry. In ancient Rome it took a shoemaker five and one-half days to make a pair of shoes. Today our factories make shoes at the rate of eighty-two pairs per man each five and one-half days. Our present factories could turn out 800,000,000 pairs of shoes per year—seven and one-third pairs of shoes per year for every man, woman and child in the country. One hundred years ago it took a man one year to mine 80 tons of iron ore. In 1929 a man mined 20,000 tons per year. One hundred years ago an iron worker could produce 25 tons of pig iron per year. Today a man can produce 4,000 tons per year. An iron worker today can accomplish as much in one hour as he could in 650 hours fifty years ago. A modern steel rolling mill will operate without a single human being on the floor. A rayon factory is nearing completion in New Jersey that will operate twenty-four hours a day without a single workman in the plant. By means of a photo electric cell, an official at his desk in New York can change dyes without leaving his desk and without human assistance at the plant. Machines have recently been installed that will turn out 2500 to 2600 cigarettes per minute, compared with 500 to 600 previously turned out. In terms of energy we have multiplied the output of a man 9,000,000 times in the last one hundred years, 8,766,000 of this increase has come within the last thirty years.

Means New Era
"What does all this mean? It means that we are living in a new era. It means that the reason for unemployment is not political. It means that unless we do something about it the words of Philip C. Staples, vice president of the Bell Telephone company, will be true. This is what he said: 'Of the hundreds of thousands of people out of work in Philadelphia, thousands and thousands of them are never going back to work—back to the old-fashioned Century has an editorial on 'The Never-Yet-Employed.' It was about the thousands of young people who have never had an opportunity to hold a job. If we go on the way we have been going, will they ever have jobs?'

"Conditions might be worse than they are. Our technologists know how to make a razor blade that would last a man a life time. If such a blade were made the nation could be supplied in a few weeks and the factories close permanently. 'Ramlie' is a new fibrous nettle plant. Cloth made from it will wear several hundred times as long as cotton. Paper can be made from it cheaper than from wood pulp and the paper would be so strong that it could not be torn by hand. Designs are complete for an automobile that will run 300,000 to 350,000 miles without a general overhauling. If such razor blades and such cloth and such automobiles should be manufactured, what would be the result upon the present employment?

"But there is a bright side to this picture. Technocracy means that there is possible for us an era that will be the most prosperous and happy that the world has ever known. All the material needs of all the people can be supplied by the adult population—people from 25 to 45 years of age—working four hours per day, four days per week. This would provide a standard of living for the entire population 10 times above the average standard of 1929.

Most Encouraging
"This is the most hopeful, the most encouraging thing that I have heard in all my life time. Whether we have it or not depends upon our ability to make the necessary social adjustment. Our present system, technocracy, tells us, is fit for the museum. Fascism, Communism, Socialism, are all equally outgrown and inadequate. A new order must be established.

"What must we do to be saved? Technocracy claims to have an answer but it has not published it as yet. However, certain lines of procedure are indicated. The present price system must go. Energy, horsepower, must become the standard of value. Government by politicians must go. The present type of politician would be utterly incapable of functioning under a technological order. He is incapable of functioning now. We are under the present order. We are destined to be governed by technicians, by technological experts. Finally, all must share in what can be produced so easily and abundantly. All this has been summarized by a recent writer as follows: 'The machine, the really big technological mechanism, has now made possible, and necessary, the elimination of much of man's toil. It has made invalid every old social, political and economic postulate now in use. It has rendered political systems useless. It has sounded the death knell of old methods of exchange. It has shelved permanently the necessity for private enterprise and savings. By its pervasive force in changing man's whole outlook upon life, it has opened the way for the greatest release of the so-called human values in history. It has provided the way for the elimination of human greed and the enjoyment of leisure by everyone. Here is the light that is shining upon our industrial and economic darkness. The people that sat in darkness have seen a great light.'

Offers Challenge
"What has all this to do with religion? 'Technocracy and Christmas' What has technocracy to do with Christmas? It has much to do with religion. It has everything to do with human welfare. And anything that concerns human welfare is the concern of religion. In the first place technocracy offers a challenge to religion. Our religion was born in a very simple social order. It has developed down through the ages in an enlargement of that same simple social order. Is it adequate for a technological social order? It is easy to see what will happen to our religion if it cannot meet the needs of people in a technocracy. Personally I believe that the religion of Jesus is adequate for the new age. It is a religion for the spirit. It deals with human spirits, human traits, human needs that do not change greatly even though the social order does change. I am equally confident that technocracy needs the help of religion. It is going to take a great deal of Christian spirit and character to make the necessary social adjustments. The people of privilege will not make the change without much fear and trembling. These people will need the help of religion. The under privileged people are quite apt to be extreme, violent, senseless. They will need religion to hold them steady and to guide them. The rule of the technologist is going to demand great character on the part of the ruler. What power will be placed in the hands of the technician? Mussolini, Stalin, Napoleon, Alexander the Great will be pygmies in comparison with the ruler in a technocracy. What is going to insure men of character—men worthy to have such power placed in their hands? I see no other agency than religion.

"What will this great amount of leisure time mean? What will happen when men work 16 hours per week and have all the rest of the week as leisure time? It can mean an opportunity to live the abundant life. I wish I could do my work in four hours per day and have the rest of the time for doing the things I have always longed to do. But this leisure time can also mean a larger opportunity for gross and senseless living. That is what leisure time means to many now. That great amount of leisure time may be the serpent that will ruin the new Eden. We must have a power to fortify life, to guide life in the use of this freedom from toil. I sincerely believe that the need for the religion of Jesus and the need for the church and Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will be greater in a technocracy than ever before in the history of the world.

"Technocracy and Christmas. Christmas must be, not an anniversary, not the celebration of a past event, but a reality. The Christ spirit must be born anew in the life of the world. Perhaps the depression of today shall be the manner for the burning of the Christ spirit into the life of our world."

debt installment to the United States.

Republican guards with gleaming bayonets stood like statues inside the chamber in their brilliant scarlet and blue uniforms. Plain clothes detectives lingered in the corridors and on stairways, suspiciously eyeing the throngs of spectators and deputies alike.

The doors were closed early after 1000 spectators had crowded into a space meant for 100, overflowing into the jammed press gallery.

Premier Edouard Herriot, surrounded by almost his entire cabinet, was on the government bench.

As soon as the debate started, Herriot mounted the tribune amid a hush in the packed, red-walled chamber. He began a three part speech, the first part dealing with the historical facts of the debt agreements, the second with the recent negotiations concerning the December 15 payment and the third with possible solutions, particularly the government's play for paying with reservations based on the United States promise to reopen debt discussions.

He paid elaborate tribute to the role of the United States in the World War, stressing the bravery of American troops at Belleau Wood, St. Mihiel and the Argonne, where 75,000 fell.

He also praised the rapid creation of an American army of 5,000,000 from a nucleus of 170,000, of whom 2,000,000 came to France, bringing 2,000,000 tons of steel and 5,000,000 tons of food.

The chamber warmly applauded the tribute to the American troops. Before the debate opened, the Socialists voted to oppose unconditional payment. There were only two dissenting votes.

Deputies frequently interrupted Herriot's address, shouting "Don't pay a cent."

"If France does not pay, the Lausanne accords will be crushed and the nations will return to the pre-Lausanne debt situation."

TABLES TURNED BY ATTENDANT EARLY TODAY

A service station bandit's victim turned the tables on his captor at 1:30 o'clock this morning and as a result, Jack Bennett, 22, of 2255 Main street, Torrance, is in Community hospital in Long Beach with a bullet in his abdomen, with his chances of recovery very doubtful, according to a Seal Beach police report.

Cal Mallonee, 24, an employee of the Motor Aid station on the State highway at Seal Beach, was approached by Bennett, who asked him to repair a tire. The bandit waited until Ed Long, proprietor of the station, had departed before pulling a gun. Mallonee gave the bandit $25 from the cash register. The man then ordered Mallonee to climb into his coupe, which was driven to a point on the Hathaway cut-off. Here Bennett ordered Mallonee to change coats with him. Mallonee had an automatic in his coat pocket and in removing the garment, he grabbed the gun and shot Bennett. He brought the wounded man to the Seal Beach police station and officers took him to the Community hospital.

Surgeons said that Bennett probably would die.

TWO MEXICANS JAILED AFTER BARBER BEATEN

A short time after William Mayes, 36, Bolsa barber, was found lying in an unconscious condition on West First street last night, the victim of a beating by two of three men whom they believed staged the holdup and lodged them in the county jail, charged with robbery.

The men are Mexicans, Frank Medina, 22, who has been in jail here four times previously, and Leo De Sota, 22, of 304 North Paulerino street, Anaheim, who was freed from jail just Friday. Medina lives at 511 East Walnut street, Santa Ana.

Mayes was taken to the Orange county hospital, where it was said he suffered a possible fracture of the right jaw, the loss of several teeth and a severe cut near the right ear. He was hit with a car jack, it was said.

Officers Merle Dean and G. F. McKelvey arrested Medina and De Sota a short distance from the scene of the holdup, which was just west of the Santa Ana river on West First street. Information obtained from another Mexican, who is said to have seen the two men in a car with Mayes shortly before he was held up, led to the arrest.

At the same time sheriff's officers are seeking a third holdup man who so far has not been identified. The witness declared there were three men in the car with Mayes and he is believed to have furnished officers with the name of the third robber. De Sota and Medina were arrested at the Arizona cafe, which is on West First street.

Hospital attendants declared today that although Mayes was badly hurt by the crushing blows he received, his condition was not critical.

SCOUT CAMP TO BE OPENED FOR WINTER SPORTS

Camp Rokill, the Orange County Boy Scout camp in the San Bernardino mountains, will be opened to all boys in the county of first class rank and higher for winter time activities on December 26 for a five-day period, weather permitting. It was announced today by Scout Executive Harrison E. White.

The mountains in the winter were never more appealing than they are this year, White declared, and the council has never been better prepared to accommodate the scouts in these winter sports than it is this year. Splendid leadership will be provided by scoutmasters and older Eagle Scouts for those that attend winter camp, it is said.

Snow is on the ground now at camp; great stacks of firewood have been cut, toboggans are ready and all winter sports of the mountains are available for all attending. Jenkins Lake is reported in excellent condition for skating. The camp will be in direct charge of Executive White, assisted by Lester Boyle, Bob Farland, Albert Spencer and several others to be announced later.

Bakersfield Ties Fresno Hi, 7 To 7

FRESNO, Dec. 12.—(UP)—Fresno and Bakersfield high school elevens today were hailed joint football champions of the larger schools of the San Joaquin valley, and Los Banos held the smaller schools title.

Fresno and Bakersfield tied, 7 to 7, in their contest here Saturday before a record crowd which braved chill breezes to see the game.

Bakersfield's score was made in the second period by O'Brien, after Qualls had blocked a Fresno punt to put the ball on the 4-yard line.

Fresno scored in the third period following a 78-yard power and passing drive which put the ball on the 2-yard line, from where Makasian plunged over.

The suit of the Drivere's against Shafer was filed following an automobile crash at the intersection of Lemon and Santa Ana streets. Drivere demanded damages totaling $10,492.55. Miss Drivere demanded judgment for $5,277.50 for her injuries.

GUY LOMBARDO TAKES ADVANCE PEEP AT NEW DODGE SIX

New York, N. Y.—Guy Lombardo, personable leader of one of America's most famous dance orchestras, and musical idol of the younger set, deserted his baton today for an advance showing of the new Dodge Six.

"It's a hit!" was the enthusiastic comment of the rhythm king afterwards. And since Mr. Lombardo has been responsible for some of the biggest hits in the song world, his statement may be considered prophetic.

"The new Dodge Six will click with everybody who wants a smart, youthful car that is sporty and smooth. And it's so peppy! It has the zip and go of a snappy fox-trot, combined with the gliding ease of a dreamy waltz. It has everything the public wants—good looks, impressive power, flashing speed and brilliant performance. And when you add to that the amazing value represented by this great car you've got a combination that will take the country by storm."

Although details of the new car have not yet been officially released by the Dodge organization, it is known that Dodge is ready to spring a real surprise when the new car is formally presented to the public. According to reports, the new Dodge Six is going to be offered with an astounding array of features, at a radical low price which will completely upset all established standards of automobile value.

MAY PROSECUTE VIOLATORS OF TREE MEASURE

Following a special conference between members of the Santa Ana forestry board, the planning commission and the city council, immediate steps will be taken to show the teeth in the Santa Ana tree planting ordinance, it was announced today by officials of the forestry board.

Violations have been numerous in spite of repeated publicity regarding the requirements of an official permit either to plant or cut trees in the parking next to the street, according to Asa Hoffman, chairman of the forestry board.

Complaints are now being laid before City Attorney Clyde Downing and it is probable that one or more warrants will be issued at once.

Violations of the ordinance have consisted of cutting down large street shade trees, planting trees not authorized by ordinance and acts of vandalism resulting in broken trees and three stakes. In some instances it has been necessary to plant trees three or four times in front of some properties and these conditions are being particularly checked by Dale Griggs, assistant city forester, who has reported on the various types of violation.

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

SALES TAX

You can measure how long it will be before the sales tax is enacted, by figuring how long it takes for a change of mind to flower in a congressman's skull. The leaders privately say three months. That is what they are planning on. They believe the sales tax will be passed in the special session of congress after March 4.

It may come sooner if a majority should develop in favor of it. The situation inside is that the Democratic leaders favor the tax. They see no other way of balancing the budget. Neither does anyone else in Washington who deals with realities instead of rhetoric. At the same time the leaders know the tax is unpopular. They burned their fingers on that issue in the last session of the congress.

They are going to wait now until the demands for it come up from the ranks. Former opponents of the tax must become convinced that it offers the only way of raising enough revenue to run the government.

The prospects are two to one that they will reach that conclusion before the next fiscal year begins July 1.

Meanwhile the Democrats plan to do their utmost in economies, helping against hope that the tax may be avoided. The Roosevelt plan for funding the building program in long term bonds is one thing that will be proposed. Beer will be offered for $300,000,000 revenue. Other items are in the back of their heads.

All put together they will not be sufficient to meet the federal needs in the confidential opinion of those who are working on the figures.

FRANCE

The Herriot ministry has picked a soft spot to fall on. Our best diplomatic channels have confidential information that it is all fixed for the chamber of deputies to topple Herriot on the American war debt issue. Herriot will want to pay and the chamber will refuse.

That means the French probably will default.

ENGLAND

Mr. Hoover and his secretary of state were very much worried early in the week about the British payment. They could not decide what to do. That was the reason the subject was left out of Mr. Hoover's annual message to congress.

He was trying then to find some way whereby the British could pay without affecting international exchange. He realized payment would be excruciatingly painful in gold with the pound at $3.15.

The idea was broached that payment might be arranged in francs or lire. Officials thought they might be able to work out something along that line.

GERMANY

Insiders have already coined a phrase for Gen. von Schleicher's policies: "field gray socialism." Future industrial subsidies will be confined to enterprises which are useful to national defense. Schleicher intends to convert these subsidies as well as past ones into shares in these concerns, thereby in many cases making the government majority owner.

VETERANS

Mr. Hoover's $300,000,000 veterans' cut got marked down to $127,000,000 before he announced it in his budget message. He has been toying with the idea since the beginning of the presidential campaign. He planned to break it in a speech then but his political associates privately warned against it.

The government will be very lucky if congress authorizes even that much. Underlying sentiment on the Hill is strongly against economizing on veterans' expenditures in these times. The cut will hardly be as much as Mr. Hoover recommended.

FARM BOARD

The expert accountants who investigated the Farm Board will report shortly that practically everything there has been on the up and up.

Some irregularities are supposed to have been discovered among the smaller cooperatives. They date back to early in the Farm Board game when things were wilder than they are now. Generally the board will be awarded a clean bill of health.

There is good private information that they could liquidate today for $140,000,000 to $150,000,000. That means a net loss of more than $320,000,000.

Farm Board members hope to keep their jobs by changing their business. Their report fits in significantly with the Roosevelt allotment plan. Also they are getting rid of their heavy timbers. The treasurer is being shifted off to the home loan mortgage system. A high priced attorney to whom congress objected is being traded for nothing to the R. F. C. The board will have to do more than that to sustain itself. Congressmen are getting ready to cut off the appropriations. Liquidation will be officially turned over to the R. F. C.

HOOPER

The Republican congressional leaders are laying off Mr. Hoover. Few went near the White House at the opening of the session. Usually they come trooping in droves, beaming and full of handshakes. The difference apparently was mutual. Mr. Hoover called in only one senator—Reed of Pennsylvania—for consultation about his annual message.

There will not be many congressmen who will care to go out of their way to help Mr. Hoover from here on in.

WATSON

The happiest lame duck on the Hill is Republican Floor Leader Watson. He has the season's finest line of amusing stories. His health is better than it was last session.

"I've got nothing to worry about now," he says, "except making a living." He really means it.

BANKING

Publicity given the ideas on branch making of big business as expressed in recent speeches of Pierre Jay, former federal reserve agent and Thomas Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., will boil no eggs. The Glass bill will be rewritten in conformity with the wishes of small bankers all over the country. It is certain that they will get the protection which they demand.

NOTES

The fact that the administration would come out for a sales tax was first printed in this column more than two months ago. That is how long the administration mind has been made up on the subject. There is another reason why a vote on the sales tax may be postponed until next session. . . . House members already are on record against the tax now. . . . The new congress will be largely unencumbered. . . . Publicly he said sweetly: "I believe the message adequately covers the problems to be handled at this session of congress."

NEW YORK

By James McMullin
SYNDICATE

There is a neat new angle to the game of suing corporations. A local law firm has set up a sort of syndicate with corresponding law firms in 22 other cities. Each of the 23 delivers into corporation records to sniff out charter and indenture violations. The profits on settlements are divided up. It works like a banking syndicate to float securities—only in reverse.

Sidekick on methods: "Strike suit" law firm turned over a corporation minute book to another lawyer who discovered several pages missing. The latter demanded an explanation with the following results:

"The pages were there when we sent you the book. You must have lost them yourself."

"Why, you double-blinded such-and-such, you come across with those pages or I'll report you to the bar association and have you disbarred!"

P. S. The pages were returned.

RAILS

The findings of the Coolidge-Smith-Baruch railway commission are likely to tally closely with the program laid down by Franklin Roosevelt in his Salt Lake City campaign speech.

The tie-up is dual. Baruch knows more about railway problems than other members of the commission and his views will carry considerable weight. He has consulted with Roosevelt on the subject a number of times.

The commission's official research is in charge of Dr. Harold G. Moulton of the Brookings Institute — which has important banking connections. Dr. Moulton is best known locally for a study in opposition to the St. Lawrence treaty which he published several years ago.

The commission will also consider reports from a number of interested sources with divergent viewpoints. Among the reporting bodies are the American Railway association and the railway labor groups. Milton Harrison—president of the security owners association — is important behind the scenes. He is in the confidence of the labor group and provides a link between the brotherhoods and the security owners. The banking viewpoint will be represented in a report being prepared by J. & W. Seligman.

The main objective of the commission will be to spur necessary legislative activity in congress. The commission's sponsors selected the personnel with a view to gaining the confidence of various sections of public opinion. Coolidge was chosen to represent conservative opinion generally, Baruch to represent the financial angle, and Smith to carry weight with the man in the street.

The most important results of the commission's final report will probably be as follows:

1. The weaker railroads will not be allowed to borrow indefinitely.
2. Holding companies—such as the Pennroad and Allegheny corporations—will be made subject to federal regulation.
3. The Recapture Act will be repealed.

4. Railway competitors will be regulated.

So far the railways have gone easy in the matter of heavy taxes on motor trucks because many of them have established trucking services of their own.

Holdup On Dec. 3 Reported Today

L. G. Hesser of 219 East First street was held up and robbed of $29 in cash by three bandits at Bristol and Fairview streets on December 3, he reported to the police today.

The report was not made until police heard about the holdup from another source.

Hesser reported he was driving his car west on Fairview when he saw what he thought was a wrecked car at the side of the street. He stopped to investigate when one of the three men standing near the car, pulled a gun on him and ordered him to hold up his hands. Another bandit searched him and found his money, he reported.

NEW MODELS BY DODGE SHOWN IN SANTA ANA

While Dodge dealers everywhere were showing the new Dodge Eight, the company itself is out with full details of its new line about which industry and retail trade did so much guessing until a few weeks ago.

The car is completely new in design and with a wheelbase of 114-1/4 inches, decidedly commanding in appearance; it also is the first American automobile to mount the latest airwheel tires as standard equipment, together with a new steering mechanism specially designed for the new large-section tires.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the new Dodge Six is by all odds the most beautiful car the company's engineering staff has produced. This statement takes on added significance in the light of the low prices at which the various models of the line are offered.

New Line Includes Five Models. The line consists of five models—coupe at $595, coupe with rumble seat, $640; five passenger sedan, $670; convertible coupe, $695; and a gorgeously appointed, close-coupled saloon brougham for which the price has been set at $660. It is quite evident that Dodge's engineers and body stylists have had their innings in the fashioning of the streamlined Monopiece steel bodies in which every line seems to indicate power, speed and elegance. The radiators slant gracefully toward the rear; hood and fender lines are molded in new, soft-flowing curves; and the low rear quarters and backs are of pleasing, close-to-the-ground roundness. Interiors are exceptionally spacious, upholstered in the richness of good taste.

In mechanical respects the new Dodge presents an impressive list of novel features. A decidedly live-hung chassis provides, without sacrifice of road clearance, the low center of gravity so important for the higher road speeds and changed driving standards of today.

The color combinations actually shown and listed as being available, include a great variety of shades and finishes, affording the buyer the exercise of individuality and personal preference.

SUGGEST TIRES AS CHRISTMAS PRESENT

With the approach of the holiday shopping season one finds the average shopper giving serious consideration to the selection of Christmas gifts which can be put to real use. Almost everyone has been affected by the past lean years and it is only natural that every individual wants to make sure that his Christmas gift dollars should buy articles that will be useful and practical, rather than ornamental and bound for early discard.

"We find that this season, more than ever before, people are turning to Goodyear tires, Prestolite Batteries and some of the better-known automotive accessories as Christmas gifts," says Hubert Bown, manager of Goodyear Service, Inc., "and there is little doubt but that there is nothing that the car owner would really appreciate more."

THIS CHRISTMAS I'D LIKE AN ELECTRIC WASHER

if it's a Maytag

"I never even thought of home washing before. But I've seen how easy it is to wash in a Maytag. And it seems silly to pay someone else to do such light work."

But don't confuse "buying a washer" with investing in a Maytag. A Maytag washes clothes cleaner...faster...with less wear...less wear and tear on clothes...less cost per washing...and keeps on doing that for more years. It represents a permanent investment in household equipment and in actual dollars and cents savings.

Certainly a washer is an appropriate gift—if it's a Maytag. Come in and let us demonstrate and talk terms.

STUDENT FROM CHINA SPEAKS AT C. E. UNION

The Chinese race has practiced national brotherhood hundreds of years before the coming of Christ, and the teachings of the great organizer, Confucius, have paved the way for the gospel of the Christ, Ben-Bing Chen, young Chinese student, told members of the Orange County Christian Endeavor union in their bi-monthly meeting yesterday at the Fullerton Christian church.

The speaker talked on "World Brotherhood," or "Between the Four Oceans We Are All Brothers," and insisted that the spirit of brotherhood must begin with those in the small unit, before it can extend to a wider field.

Ellen Gibbs, Fullerton, presided at the session. Theresa Ross, Yorba Linda, was chairman. She is missionary superintendent of the county union.

Special musical offerings were presented by Hudry Harkleroad and Clara Golaspay, who sang a duet, accompanied at the piano by Ruth Mackey, all of Placentia Presbyterian society, and by Kenneth and Clarence Rohrs and Paul and Ed Elsner who presented a quartet number.

Certificates Awarded
Robert Townsend of Yorba Linda Friends society, read the Scripture lesson and the Rev. Mr. Holbrook offered the invocation. Dr. William Wicklett led in the opening group singing.

Ruby Gray announced the county unit and a large group of individual C. DARE NOT REPEAL SECOND COMMANDMENT, IS WARNING IN MESSAGE BY MINISTER

Continuing a series of lectures on the subject "Shall We Repeal the Ten Commandments," the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church last night discussed the Second Commandment. In his talk last night Reverend Owings said "We dare not repeal the Second Commandment and rule out the spiritual. Peril is ahead for the man or the civilization that lives thus."

The speaker likened the tendency of the Twentieth Century to worship its mechanical structures and great inventions to the worshiping of graven images against which the warning was sounded in the Second Commandment.

In his talk he said in part: "To the ancient Hebrew the second commandment—thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image or a likeness of anything, etc.—had a twofold warning. First it warned him against setting up some other god than Jehovah, inferior in the moral effect on his life; and second, an image or carved figure representing even Jehovah would likely engage his whole attention and he would be found worshipping the statue rather than having his mind lifted to the spiritual duty of which it was the symbol."

"But has it any significance to the twentieth century man? Certainly it does not mean the destruction and the demolishing in the name of religion of every picture and statue and representation of anything divine. This has of course been done in some fanatical periods. But this condition we do find, that our civilization has put up its huge and magnificent structures, has constructed its machines and entered upon its great inventions, and then has bowed down to worship these instruments of power only to forget or to deny entirely the God, the Spirit of purity and goodness and love, who has allowed us to have them for mankind's benefit."

"The cry of the leading spirits of our time is that we are repealing or repudiating the second commandment in that we are becoming materialists instead of seeing and using the material things as the symbols to point us to God and the spiritual."

"Someone has said that we are like a man with a telescope in his hands through which he is to see matters. Instead of looking through it for the purpose intended we are admiring its lenses, its ornamentation, its general construction, and as a result see only the telescope and not the heavens. Wordsworth's warning is to be heeded by this twentieth century. 'The world is too much for us.'"

"We dare not repeal the second commandment and rule out the spiritual. Peril is ahead for the man or the civilization that lives thus. The crying need of the hour is to bow before the God of purity, love, goodness to let him have full sway in managing and directing the entire physical and material expression of his power."

Christian Science

"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the lesson-lesson yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text was from the Psalms: "As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about His people from henceforth even for ever."

Among the Scriptural selections in the lesson-lesson were these verses from the ninety-first Psalm: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. . . . Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, presented the definition of angels: "spiritual intuitions, pure and perfect; the inspiration of goodness, purity, and immortality, counteracting all evil, sensuality, and mortality."

PASTOR GIVES SIXTH LECTURE ON REVELATION

Sounding of the seven judgment trumpets was discussed yesterday by the Rev. Fred A. Flora, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, in his sermon delivered at morning worship. This sermon was the sixth in a series on the Book of Revelations.

During his sermon he said in part:

"In our previous study in the opening of the Seventh Seal, there was silence in heaven for the space of half an hour. This in anticipation of the judgments of God to be poured out upon the earth during the sounding of the trumpets and pouring out of the vials of wrath. John now saw seven angels with seven trumpets who were getting ready to sound."

"The first trumpet was followed by a severe storm of hail and fire upon the earth that was very destructive to the trees and vegetation of the earth. The second trumpet received as it were a great mountain burning with fire that fell into the sea turning it into blood as Moses in Exodus 7:14-25 turned the waters of Egypt into blood at the instruction of God."

"At the third trumpet the rivers and fountains of water were made bitter as wormwood in fulfillment of the word of God in Jer. 9:15 and 23:15 when he declared to this people Israel with whom he is now dealing that he would give them wormwood to drink."

"The fourth trumpet darkens sun, moon and stars as Jesus himself declared would be the case when the day of the Lord came. Both the fifth and sixth trumpets bring upon the earth multitudes of very extraordinary beings called in the first instance locusts but the description of which lead us to believe that they are demons who have power to hurt men and whose power is only over those who do not have the Seal of God in their foreheads, and the other are called an army of horsemen but such horsemen as have never been seen before but which were prophesied by the prophet Joel in chapter 2 verses 1-11."

"There is now introduced the account of the 'Little Book that was open' which was given to John to eat, the eating of which brought to his mouth sweetness but in his belly it was bitter, this followed as it is in Rev. 10:11 by the words, 'Thou must prophesy again before many peoples and nations and tongues and kings; leads us to believe that the Little Book has to do with a message that John was to deliver and which when it was carefully considered had to do with the judgment of God because of the wickedness of the people and therefore became a distasteful task for John as was frequent with the prophet of God then and is still true of God's prophet. Two witnesses now appear on the scene, clothed in sackcloth who are to prophesy for 1260 days or three and a half years the time that is generally believed by the world's best Bible students to represent the length of time that the anti-Christ shall reign with an iron hand and during which time God will bring judgment for the rebelliousness of mankind."

NEW BUICKS ADMIRER BY SANTA ANANS

The new Buick for 1933 is receiving the most popular reception of any Buick ever built. In the showroom of Reid Motor company, Buick dealers, the crowds and purchase orders have reflected the high appeal of the new models.

The engineering staff of the Buick Motor company, it is pointed out by W. R. Gordon, sales manager, has achieved four major objectives in the 1933 models which are longer, lower and wider:

Advanced streamlining and enrichment of interiors and appointments.
Increased smoothness and road stability.

Enclosed body ventilation with new riding comfort.
Ease and simplicity of control with increased performance.
In mechanical details the engineers have retained all of the well known Buick fundamentals of construction plus major improvements and refinements in frame, automatic clutch, non-glare lighting system, brakes, steering gear, heat-control, carburetion, shock absorbers, synchromesh transmission and springs. Starting is now simplified to the point of pressing a button on the instrument dash.
Again Buick appears in four wheelbase classifications, now ranging from 119 to 139 inches. The 50 series has been lengthened from 114 3/4 to 119 inches; the 60 series from 118 to 127; the 80 series from 126 to 130 and the 90 series from 134 to 138. In addition the cars have been given increased width by treads 59 inches in front and 60 1/2 in the rear. All bodies have been lowered without sacrificing headroom. The dimension changes contribute to road stability as well as style and comfort.

HOLIDAY SHOPPERS FILL MONTGOMERY WARD STORE HERE

Never in the history of a Montgomery Ward and company store in Santa Ana have Christmas shoppers swarmed to the store as they have this year, according to an announcement made today by J. E. Madden, manager.

Attractive values in all sorts of Christmas merchandise, together with the showing of the biggest toy department in the city is believed to be responsible for the huge crowds which literally flowed into the store all last week and jammed it on Saturday.

At the same time the manager is giving much credit for the big crowds to the personal appearance every day of Santa Claus himself, who sits on his throne in the toy department every afternoon entertaining his little friends who come by the hundreds to see him and to whisper into his ear what they want at Christmas time.

Lo Lo the clown, formerly with Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers circuses, has been appearing each Saturday in the windows of the store, and starting next Saturday will be seen every day in his comic antics which have been a source of great pleasure to grownups as well as children.

Not only is the Christmas business far above expectations, according to Madden, but Santa Ana housewives are taking advantage

Christmas Candies To Be Featured At Cooking Class

Demonstrations will be given and recipes distributed for date candy, Christmas fudge, caramels, Scotch kisses, spiced nuts, apple crystals, Knox dainties and chocolate fudge. A temperature guide will be given as well as valuable hints in what to do in making candy.

CHILDREN IN YULE GATHERING DEC. 23

FULLERTON, Dec. 12.—Plans for celebrating Christmas at the Christian church are complete, with announcement of a children's program and white gift offerings for December 23 at the church, and the regular Sunday school offering December 25. Offerings are to be made for the California Christian Home for the Aged at the Friday night service. Classes are asked to contribute to this fund at the morning service also.

Many bargains found in the store at this time of the year, he said.

SAFETY DEPENDS ON GOOD RUBBER

For protection of himself and his family, every car owner should have his tires carefully checked at this season so accidents will not follow neglect. Orval Lyon Goodrich tire dealer in Santa Ana, declared today.

"Analysis of automobile accidents throughout the country in 1931 showed that 3889 cars figured in accidents caused by tire punctures or blowouts," Mr. Lyon said. "Of this number, 330 were accidents in which one or more people lost their lives, and 5550 resulted in injuries to occupants of the cars involved."

"This terrible toll could in large part have been prevented by careful inspection of tires. Many of these punctures and blowouts occurred in tires that were so old or worn that any alert tire service man would have warned the owners."

"Driving on tires which have outlived their usefulness in the effort to get an extra 100 miles of wear is often the dearest kind of economy, resulting in tragedies that may bring death and suffering."

Fine Program Arranged For Holiday Music Festival

BENEFIT EVENT TO BE GIVEN TUESDAY NIGHT

The complete program which will be presented as a benefit for unemployed needy families of Santa Ana by musicians of Santa Ana at the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, was announced today by D. C. Clamford, who is in charge of arrangements for the event.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used entirely for purchasing foodstuffs for members and families of the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana. Outstanding musical organizations of the city are taking part.

An outstanding feature of the program, which combines the annual holiday music festival, will be the appearance of Albert Angermayer, concert violinist, who will come from Los Angeles for the sole purpose of helping the cause of the unemployed in Santa Ana.

Noted Violinist

Angermayer has long enjoyed the reputation of being one of the finest violinists and chamber musicians of the entire coast, it is said. German by birth, the noted violinist has held important positions in Germany and has made numerous concert tours in Europe and the United States. He is now first violin with the Hollywood String quartet and one of the first violinists in the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra.

Following is the complete concert program as announced today:

"La Reine de Saba" (Chas. Gounod); "Organ Offertoire" (Battiste); "Santa Ana Municipal band." "Thanks Be to God" (Dickson); "Invictus" (Huhn); "Cantando club. BUSINESS BOOMS IN SANTA'S SHOP

Playthings Teach While They Amuse

BY JULIA BLANCHARD

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Today's children are getting ready for tomorrow's living.

For new toys have gone practical and realistic and, by merely playing with them, children can now learn more useful things in a few days than all the theories in the world could teach them in years.

And, despite the times, people certainly are buying toys, for the Toy Association has just announced the addition of 25,000 workers to fill orders. Yes, business is booming in Santa's toy shop.

Real Help for Mother
Little girls this year can really help keep house with washing machines with real motors, electric stoves that bake potatoes and grill chops, and electric refrigerators that make cubes of ice.

Not to mention a full line of practical miniature carpet sweepers, rolling pins and other kitchen necessities.

Musical instruments are among the newest and possibly the most delectable toys, from a child's viewpoint. There are little pianos with four octaves that retail around $15, imitation saxophones, xylophones, traps, horns and every other conceivable instrument, down to trap drum sticks. Incidentally these trap sticks are a new discovery as playthings for young babies.

Really Do Things
Boys have fascinating new toys that actually do things. Electric dumping machines that hook up with the floor plug go through a variety of motions, by the remote control idea. Velocipedes have trailers that dump.

Train and freight depots have automatic dispatches, and new trains include exact reproductions of famous trains, such as the 20th Century, with plush pullman seats and even a place to put ice in the cooler.

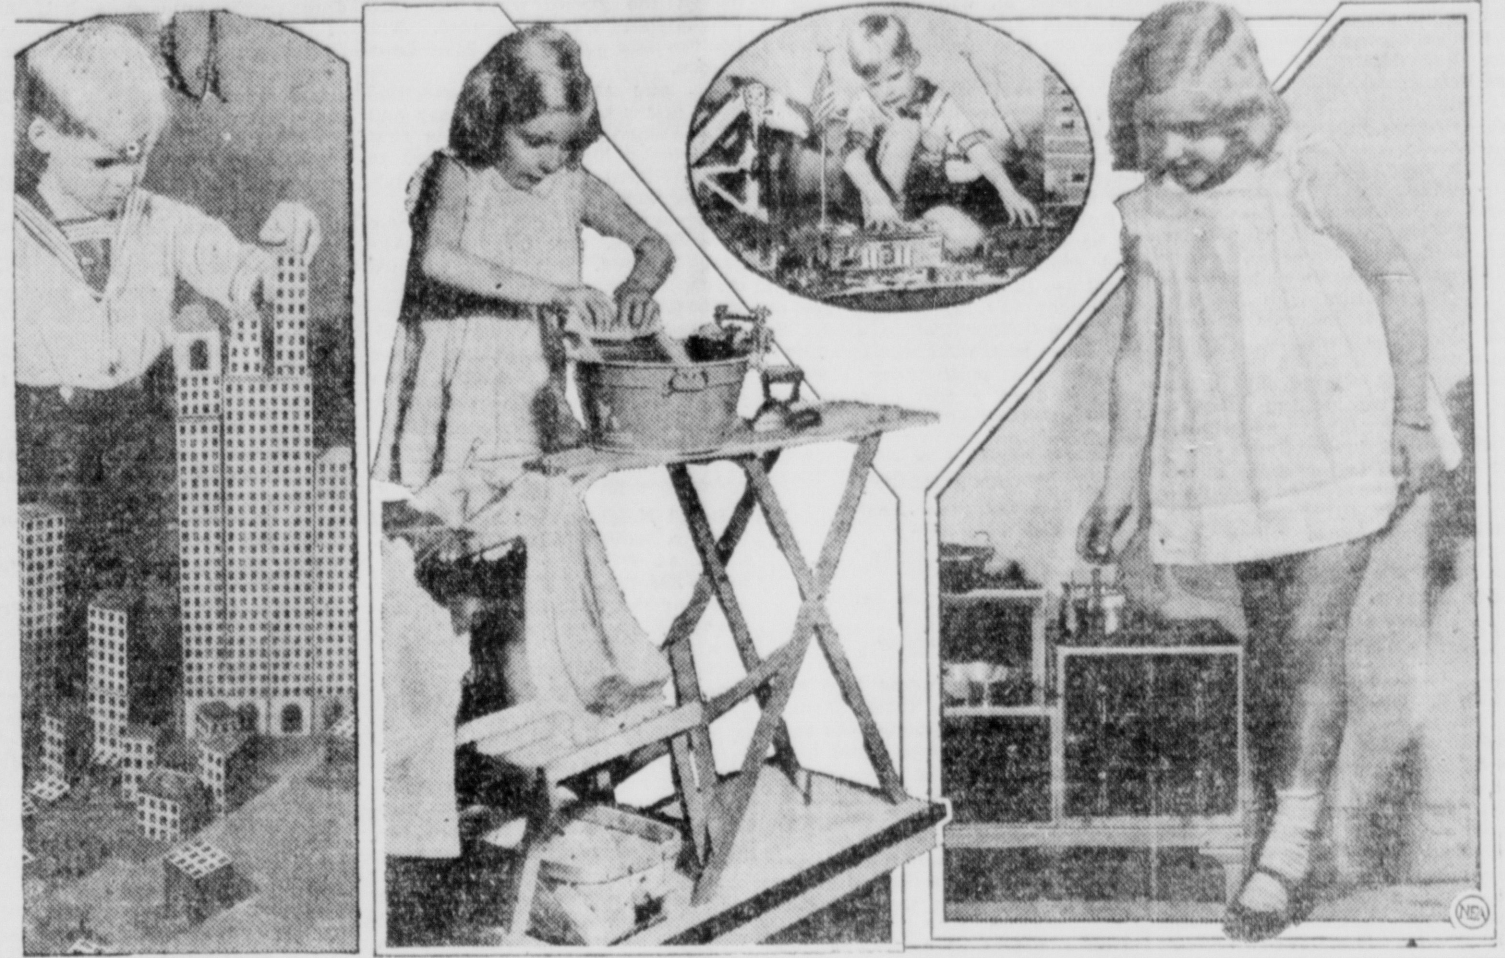

There are charming little doll houses this year with real electric lights and period furniture, in a new dollar line. Dolls themselves look like children but, unlike children, you can drop the dolls with impunity, because they are made of a non-breakable composition.

And Accessories Galore

You can get everything for a doll nowadays that a child has, including spectacles and galoshes. There are layettes for baby dolls up to $1000, in case you have that much to spend. There are inexpensive wardrobe trunks with whole outfits, including clothes, wraps, hats, shoes and even talcum powder and diapers, if it is a baby doll.

TOYS REALISTIC AND PRACTICAL

For both boys and girls there are new play stores that take on reality by the addition of genuine miniature cash registers that help a child's arithmetic. Tandem kites are a new plaything. So are isinglass greenhouses, with some special violet ray glass in them, under which real plants can be grown. Microphones that can be set up in the living room and heard in another room are new. So is a kind of cement that children can make into building blocks for individual garages or gas stations.

Skyscraper blocks are a trend of the times. And as a final touch all the new blocks come packed in trucks or trains, instead of plain boxes. For all the new toys reflect the realism of the world today and many of them teach children to do useful things.

LIFE STORY OF FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

By Leland M. Ross and Allan W. Grobin

(This intimate story of the life of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, beginning with the time his father took him as a 5-year-old to call on his close friend, Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, carries the reader through an interesting boyhood on the family farm at Hyde Park, N. Y., his student days at Groton, Harvard and Columbia Law School, and the development of his political career, which began with a New York State Senatorship. This biography is entirely authentic. Recent installments told of F. D.'s courageous fight against the after-effects of infantile paralysis, and of the work of the Warm Springs Foundation, which he established in Georgia after deriving great benefits from the baths there. In 1928 he worked for the nomination and election as President of Alfred E. Smith, and although the national ticket was beaten, he was elected governor of New York, running far ahead of the national ticket. Roosevelt faced a hostile Republican Legislature and one of his big fights was over control of the hydro-electric power developed in the St. Lawrence River.

farm—many times more—than the family on the American side of the border. This is due to the simple fact that the Ontario Government Commission has adopted the definite policy of providing the cheapest possible electricity for the homes of that province. The legislators declared that only highly trained corporation experts could manage and operate so tremendous an enterprise and that state operation would mean waste and inefficiency. Again Roosevelt pointed to Ontario: "Ontario handles its hydro-electric developments in somewhat the same fashion as that embodied in this measure. Consumers in Ontario get their electric current for one-third to one-half the price paid by consumers on the American side of the border, although the Niagara River at Niagara Falls is the source of hydro-electric power on both sides."

If further proof of the state's ability to distribute its own power were needed, F. D. suggested the legislators take up the study of the New York State barge canal. "The extraordinary efficiency and business-like handling of that canal should dispel every such fear," he declared.

The objects pointed to the Public Service Commission as guardian of the public's interests; and declared such protection as it afforded was sufficient.

"Public Service regulation has failed," retorted Roosevelt, "because utility companies issue vast quantities of watered stock, receive the regulation returns not only upon their actual, invested capital but also upon great sums of phantom capital!"

No matter where the Republicans turned, Roosevelt was upon them with all the fury of a one-pound fighter. He knew the power

From the first the exchanges with the Republican legislators were heated and bitter. Their first reaction to Roosevelt's plan was a scornful assertion that after all it was a mere rehashing of the plan ex-Governor Smith had supported and which had already been voted down in both houses. "Roosevelt retorted that the legislators were 'rubber stamps reflecting the will of more august personages.'"

"They replied by declaring the 1,250,000 horse power which New York would obtain from the development could not find a market."

"Then why did the Frontier Power Company, three years ago, ask for a 50-year lease on the site in order to build a dam and develop the power?" demanded F. D.

The Republican lawmakers found further excuses for obstruction in difficulties which might be encountered in reaching an understanding with the Canadian government.

"Nobody has tried it yet," replied the Governor tartly.

The Republican legislators attacked the feasibility of the project and "doubted" whether lower rates could be obtained.

Roosevelt asked them to explain Ontario.

"It is a matter of record that the Ontario family uses day in and day out more labor-saving devices in the house and on the

In presenting her officers and committee with daintily wrapped Christmas gifts, Mrs. Grey voiced appreciation of their activities and cooperation during the year. She proudly displayed two gifts which she received recently, a handsome brooch presented by her cabinet, and a quilt which members of the quilting club had for her.

Alpha Rho Tau members entertained several guests on Thursday evening, when all gathered in Bungalow D on the college campus for a spaghetti dinner, the society's first social affair of the school year.

Decorations of black and gold found effective contrast in bright fruits as table centerpieces, and the graceful branches of a striking desert plant in bright red. Candles in golden holders completed the effect.

Informal dancing and games formed the evening's entertainment, arranged by Miss Ruth Koehlig, chairman, and her assisting committee, Helen Shaw, Marjorie Woods, Elizabeth Straw and Janice Black, and Ray Archer.

Guests present were Harry Yerington, Harold Clem, Mildred Johnson, Miss Mary Adams, Donald Shirey, Miss Kathleen Holmes, Miss Mary Louise Dierker, Miss Gertrude Chapman, Miss Grace Middlebrook, Harold Clem, Miss Mabel Peoples, Miss Kay Patrick, Walter Clark, Merwin Carmen, Mary Maisted, Miss Frances Egge, Miss Elise Hammond and Miss Anderson. Week-End Houseparty Honors University Students

A week-end well rounded out with the informal gaieties of a houseparty in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Ashen, 1502 French street, is behind a group of young people who returned Sunday evening to their studies at Loyola university. The pleasant affair had been planned as a compliment to Vaughn Ashen, nephew of the hosts.

The young people arrived here Saturday evening, after attending the U. S. C. Notre Dame football game. In the group with Vaughn Ashen, who plays on the first string of his university's football squad, were Ernie Kaiser, Jasper Beshard, Jess Dalton and the Misses Dorothy and Betty Gunnis, Marguerite Green and Dorothy Tippitts, all of Los Angeles.

For a merry dinner party Saturday evening, the houseguests were joined by Walter Markel of Santa Ana, Walter Mullaire of Denver, Colo., and the Misses Rosemary and Bernadine Ashen, daughters of the home, together with Mr. and Mrs. Ashen. Miniature Christmas trees and other holiday appointments decked the tables.

Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour Sunday's rainstorm added to the ideal setting for the houseparty, which drew to a close Sunday evening when the Los Angeles guests made their departure. A concluding get-together of the happy affair was a dinner party, served at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

MIXING BOWL

A reader wishes to know how to clean a rusty gas stove. That's a woman-sized order for the cleaner, requiring mix, wiper and welly, plus elbow grease. However, one of my old books gives this method of cleaning and preventing rust.

To Clean Rust

Cover the rusted steel with sweet oil (salad oil will do), rubbing it on well. Let stay for 48 hours, then use fine slaked lime to rub away the rust.

One would need to be a bit careful of the hands if slaked lime is used. Rubber gloves and a bit of steel wool dipped in the lime would be easy on the hands.

To Prevent Rusting of Steel or Tin

Rub lard over the entire surface to be treated, then light the oven and gradually bring to full temperature. Brush out the oven after treatment and repeat in a day or two. No further trouble should be had from rust with this treatment.

After the preliminary cleaning away of rust, a coat of aluminum stove paint would be more effective.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Baked Ham Loaf

3 cups minced ham
1 1/2 cups dried crumbs
1 onion, minced
1 1/2 cups thin cream sauce
1 egg, well beaten
1 tablespoon parsley
Salt and pepper

Recently, I had baked ham and for I used those little "picnic" hams which can be bought so reasonably. Well, my eyes must have been bigger than my stomach for I had enough ham left over to make a "Bummin-bum".

Of course, something just had to be done about it, and that something was finally arrived at in the ham loaf, the recipe used today.

Run the bits of ham and the onion through the food chopper. Combine with dried crumbs and parsley, then with the cream sauce.

For the sauce, bring to a slow boil and thicken with 1 rounded tablespoonful of flour. Boil ten minutes, season with celery salt, pepper and paprika.

Bind the loaf with the beaten egg—that means stir it in last of all. Put the mixture in a small bread tin and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

Serve with tart apple sauce or baked sweet potatoes.

In this ham loaf, serving six, there are about 2760 calories, largely the proteins, although the proportion of energy makers is not to be taken lightly.

FLOWER SHOW IS PLANNED BY GARDEN GROUP

ORANGE, Dec. 12.—Plans for a flower show to take place in the spring were made at a meeting of the Garden section of the Orange Woman's club Friday in the home of Mrs. Irving Goldfeder. Mrs. Goldfeder used clusters of holly in decorating her home for the Christmas program when shrubs and flowers which bloom or bear bright berries at Christmas time were discussed.

Roll call was of special interest as members told of Christmas legends connected with flowers and plants. Gifts of flowers were exchanged, some of these proving to be attractively arranged cactus gardens. Bouquets of holly were presented by Mrs. Trafford Watson to section members, and some bouquets of fragrant daffodils and early flowers from winter blooming bulbs were exchanged.

It was decided to give a sum of money to the Orange Community Welfare board to aid in the work of providing Christmas dinners to those in need and also to give a sum of money to the Orange County Health camp. Mrs. A. H. Hallock, president, presided. Mrs. Earl Crawford, president of the Orange Woman's club, was a guest of the section.

In serving a dainty refreshment course of tea and wafers, Mrs. Goldfeder served on trays on each of which was a cluster of violets. Fifteen members were present. The next meeting of the section will be held in the home of Mrs. Walter Kogler, 265 North Grand street, January 13.

BANQUET PLANNED FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
ORANGE, Dec. 12.—Among the many Christmas events planned for the coming two weeks is the college young people's banquet, which will be held at the First Presbyterian church December 23. The party is an annual affair and is planned in order to give the young people of the community an opportunity to meet during the Christmas vacation when they arrive home from various universities and colleges.

W.C.T.U. HOLDS SERVICE TUESDAY
ORANGE, Dec. 12.—When members of the Orange W. C. T. U. meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Friendly Hand classroom of the First Presbyterian church, they will take part in a "Crusade anniversary" program. It was announced today by Mrs. Minnie Neville, president.

The Crusade Psalm (the 146th) is to be given for devotionals. A round table discussion on "Our Contributions to the Cause" will be conducted by Miss Mary Haywood, secretary of the union. There is also to be a review of Crusade leaders. Mrs. F. B. Scharr will provide special music.

At this meeting, the flower mission department, whose director is Mrs. H. M. Elliott, will give contributions of fruits, jellies, etc., for the Frances Willard home in Los Angeles and the Home Center of San Diego. All are urged to contribute.

Seek Names Of Needy Families For Yule Baskets
ORANGE, Dec. 12.—Organizations of the city are urged by Mrs. Grace Lentz, welfare worker, to compile names of those to whom Christmas baskets would be welcome. Up to the end of the week a small proportion of the names had been turned in at the Welfare store office, Miss Lentz says. If the names are not turned in by next Monday, great confusion will ensue the week before Christmas, she stated.

At a recent meeting of the welfare board, it was decided that names must be turned in by next Monday night in order that the work of filling the baskets might proceed in an orderly manner.

Miss Lentz stated Saturday that a great many shames now at the welfare store could be made serviceable at a small cost if a cobbler's outfit could be obtained. She said that she believed many persons may have shoe lasts in their home which they are not using and which could be used at the store as the service of a cobbler may be secured. The cobbler has no tools, she said.

F. hall, with Mrs. Della Prince, Mrs. Anna Christensen and Mrs. Ethel club as hostesses. Man Injured As Machines Collide
ORANGE, Dec. 12.—Alphonse Cervantes received a deep scalp wound in an automobile accident which occurred in the 600 block on South Cambridge street Saturday night. Cervantes was riding in a car driven by Tom French of South Olive street, which collided with one driven by C. O. Miller of South Cambridge street. According to a report at the Orange police station, Miller was making a left hand turn to enter his home on this street and French was attempting to pass him. Both cars were badly damaged. French and Miller were uninjured.

200 CHILDREN TAKE PART IN ANNUAL SERVICE
ORANGE, Dec. 12.—The second annual Christmas Vesper service, in which 200 children from Orange elementary schools took part, was presented yesterday afternoon in Orange Union high school auditorium, under the direction of Miss Rachel Williams.

Members of the chorus made an effective entrance led by Betty and Barbara Smith, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, marching to their places on the platform. Mothers of students had assisted in making appropriate costumes worn by boys and girls taking part.

The first number was a procession, "O Come All Ye Faithful," followed by "The Christmas Story" told by Billy Dick Riehl. A first grade chorus sang "The Cradle Hymn." "Joy to the World" was the next number sung by the chorus. The Girls' Glee club of Intermediate school sang "Cantique de Noël" with Phyllis Kogler and Eleanor Kolkhurst taking solo parts. "Silent Night," "Goodnight" and "Christmas Prayer" were concluding numbers.

Miss Madeline Walsh accompanied at the piano and Mrs. Marie Madison Daugherty at the organ. In arranging the program, Miss Williams had the assistance of Miss Winnie J. Hill of Killefer school; Miss Madeline Walsh of West Orange school; Miss Bertha Robinson of Cypress street school; Miss Bommell Miller of Killefer school and Miss Ruth Chase of Maple street school.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

"Well, well," said Duncy. "I am brave. I made the dickensdwarfs all rave and scamper quickly 'cross the bridge. I guess they won't come back."

Then Duncy went back to the rest and said, "I did my very best. If I had caught a dwarf I would have given him a whack."

The king of Weeland said, "My son, your chasing stunt was real well done. It was a shame to scare the dwarfs, but they raise such a mess."

"Each one can act just like a clown. They'll turn our land right upside-down. 'Tis better that you chased them and gave them a fright, I guess."

Then Scouty walked up to the king and asked if there was anything in Weeland that the happy band of Tines had not seen.

"We do not want to miss a thing," said he. "So tell us kindly, there's one thing that we've wondered most. Does this land have a queen?"

"Oh, no!" the friendly king replied. "A queen has never sat by my side. In fact, you have seen everything that this land has to show."

"But you have been real kind to me and I will pay you. You shall see! I know a place to send you, if you would all care to go."

"Where is it?" Windy loudly cried. "And does it mean we take a ride to get there? Gee, that would be fun! If that's the case, we'll go."

"You'll ride right in an airship, lad. 'Twill be the finest trip you've had," replied the king. "When you arrive, you'll all be glad, I know."

The next thing that the Tines knew, right up to them the airship flew. A little Weeland pilot stood in front. He cried, "Hop in!"

"We will not," said the Tines. "You're bound. 'Twill thrill you when the place is found." And as the Tines sailed away they all began to grin.

(The Tines get a great, big surprise in the next story.)

THE REGISTER THE STRONGEST
ADVERTISING MEDIUM

It is an old and trite statement that "it pays to advertise." It is probable that some results can be obtained through almost any form of publicity, anywhere, and at any time. But it is the verdict of those who are specialists in advertising that newspapers are the best forms of advertising, that they insure greater results for the amount of money expended by far than in any other medium. And the conclusion is that the daily paper is more effective than any other paper, because that is the paper upon which the homes depend for their information in their community, and the pages of it are searched for the latest doings, and even the latest statements of the merchants.

It has been found that the daily papers are effective in bringing about results to the advertiser, not in direct proportion to their so-called "circulation," but rather in proportion to the number of their papers which actually enter the home in the normal and regular way of distribution by the carrier boy.

The papers that depend upon street sales lose an infinite amount of their power and effectiveness because they never reach the eyes of the principal buyer of merchandise, the housewife. But the paper that enters the home regularly and is paid for, because of its value to the home, has been found several fold more effective than the one that is either sold on the street or distributed free.

We believe that we can say that the Santa Ana Register, to the highest degree, comprises all the virtues of the strongest paper for effective use by the advertiser. Its circulation is made up of extremely few street sales. It has a very small mailing list. The Santa Ana Register, as it comes out each evening, goes promptly and directly into the thousands of homes of Orange county, which receive it as a daily visitor, with the gossip of the community, the news of the city and county, the state happenings and world-wide affairs.

We are not dependent upon theory in respect to this. Take, for example, the Home-makers' Cooking Schools, which are conducted by the Safeway Stores in many cities in the state of California. You will find, on examination of their reports, that in Santa Ana, through the medium of The Register, there were more people drawn into the cooking school than in any other city of the state, with the exception of four, one of them being the city of San Francisco, one the city of Oakland, one the city of Los Angeles, and the other the city of San Diego.

Such schools were conducted in many cities of the state, including Pasadena, San Pedro, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Glendale, Hollywood, Redlands, San Bernardino and Bakersfield. The cooking school attendance, conducted in its publicity through the medium of The Register, was 60 per cent greater than in Glendale, nearly four times the attendance in Hollywood, 12 per cent greater than at Long Beach, 15 per cent greater than in Pomona, and nearly double that of Pasadena.

There are many enterprises which have confined their advertising in Santa Ana and Orange county to the columns of The Register, the managers of which have become convinced that it is the surest of results, the safest in investment, and most certain in returns. The crowds which were brought into Santa Ana last Saturday came in response to the messages that were in the pages of the Santa Ana Register. The buying public in Orange county look to the Santa Ana Register for suggestion and information. They have found that the worth while messages, either of news of the world or of merchandising, are in its pages.

The National Grange wants Congress to inflate the currency to raise commodity values. Remembering 1929's stock market explosion, maybe one blow-up deserves another.

DEBT PAYMENT MAY PROVE COSTLY

Great Britain has very definitely decided to pay the mount due on December 15. But she virtually says to Uncle Sam: "This is the last you will get until you alter the terms."

This is a rather strange attitude to assume, but the financial condition of the world, and of these nations in particular, produces some unusual conclusions. Premier Herriot is going to discuss the matter with Ramsay MacDonald today, and it may be that France will add a string to her payment, which payment was unconditional.

It would be interesting to hear this discussion between these two factual heads of the principal debtor nations. International bankers and big business are not favorable, of course, to our "insistence" upon the payments, but the people have elected the Congressmen and Senators, so that is that.

The total amounts to be paid by Great Britain and France aggregate $114,000,000. Other amounts will reach but little more. While the aggregate is a large sum, yet from the standpoint of the deficit of our treasury, it is not great. And with Great Britain forced into the market to buy gold, with her pound at $3.15, it is very likely that the pound will be reduced still further.

France will pass through swimmingly. The nations have forgotten pretty much the spirit of co-operation. Each one is endeavoring to have the balance of trade in its favor, and against the other nations. To accomplish this, both by law, and by the creation of sentiment, they are endeavoring to add to the difficulties of importers, and the result is that all nations are being hurt in the depletion of world trade.

MISS ALCOTT'S BOOKS CLASSICS

The hundredth anniversary of the birth of Louisa May Alcott was recently celebrated. Grownups didn't take much note of it. There were several magazine articles, a few editorials. But little folks are still reading the charming books. They are selling into the thousands every year. There is no question but what they would be "tried out" on the children of each generation for each mother, remembering the delights of her childhood, would try to bring the same happiness to her child. And the result of the test is that the children are still fond of "Little Women," and "Little Men" and all the rest of the series.

Pedagogues have attacked many books which it seemed impossible to attack. Tennyson's stories of the Knights of the Round Table, Grimm's grim folk stories, many others have faulty ideology for children. Miss Alcott's remain unscathed. They convey a wholesome idea of family loyalty, create an ideal of selfishness, and serve to introduce some little girls, who need it badly, to penury and likewise they console others who have poignant wants.

There seems to be little danger that the Alcott books will be forgotten. If there were, many adults would get busy and do something about it.

Mr. Hendrick Van Loon in a recent article in the New Republic said that children's books which are really good books for children spring from an emotion. Such books are a sincere expression of feeling. Children's books, as well as adult books which are the best and the most lasting, are those which have been experienced. Miss Alcott's books prove the point.

THE NEW EMANCIPATOR

Governor Rolph is just about to pardon 200 bootleggers, and 55 other inmates of San Quentin are to receive Christmas presents of a pardon. We would not attempt to say that there are not many men who have been convicted of crime who are worthy of the Governor's amnesty, but certainly it does not help the preservation of order and peace, and the protection of life and property, to give wholesale pardons simply because the people have changed a law.

Well, the men who will get out of their cells, and start for the street, should certainly be grateful for their liberty, whether they are incarcerated for other crimes or for bootlegging. As to whether the rest of the people have grounds for rejoicing, at this situation, is for them to determine.

We wish we had the brush of an artist. We have seen the picture of "Lincoln, the Great Emancipator," with the slave crouching at his feet, and with his shackles broken. We would like to place this parallel with the picture of the "New Emancipator," Governor Rolph, as the new group are leaving the jails and penitentiaries, headed back into the realms of society, each bearing a pardon from the Governor for crimes that he has committed against society. But we have not the power to place on either canvas or paper that which comes to our imagination.

Entertainment For Children

Christian Science Monitor

A famous London publishing house, which issues cheap editions of the classics of English fiction, has compiled significant lists of the most popular books of this type. Among adults "David Copperfield" is first, with Dickens in general definitely the favorite author. In 1931 "A Tale of Two Cities," "Oliver Twist" and "The Pickwick Papers" were especially big sellers. With children "David Copperfield" is relegated by "Robinson Crusoe" to the second place, while "Kidnaped" is also very high up on the list.

These facts throw an instructive light upon one of the most important social questions of the day. Most close observers are agreed that it is desirable that children should see on the screen only such films as are suitable for them. To this end it has been frequently suggested that special children's performances should be given and that films definitely designed for children should be made by the various cinema companies. As a matter of fact, such films have been produced from time to time, with this unsatisfactory result, according to the reports of different social survey councils, that children have often heartily disliked them. It has often been the case that children have preferred films made chiefly for adults to those manufactured especially for themselves.

It is significant to note, from the lists referred to above, that "Robinson Crusoe," "David Copperfield" and "Kidnaped" were not originally written for children at all; they were designed for adult entertainment. Of other distinguished favorites of childhood, such as "The Pilgrim's Progress" and "Gulliver's Travels," the same thing can be said. Surely it is obvious from this that children do not like to be played down to. They (probably unconsciously) appreciate the compliment of having something put before them that really exercises their thought. This is a fact of which the producers of children's films should never lose sight. If they are to succeed, as everyone wishes them to, they should remember that one of the most certain ways of losing the favor of children is to treat them childishly.

Peg-Leg Mine Next!

San Francisco Chronicle

A rich vein of romance would be removed from the West if all the tales of lost mines were blotted out of its literature. But such tales have the persistency of folklore and will doubtless endure so long as the lure of precious metals persists and there remains a prospector with a pick and a supply of beans and bacon.

In the news of one short week two famous "lost mines" have been "rediscovered," each one, it may be said, for the one-hundredth time. Out of the Southwest came a story that the Mine with the Iron Door had been rediscovered. From Wyoming came another tale of rediscovery of the Lost Cabin mine, fabled to hold in its caverns an immense store of gold, but lost to man since 1864. Both discoveries have all the elements of mystery usual in these stories of lost mines, not omitting to describe as fabulous the treasure awaiting recapture. Now that the season is on, the Pegleg mine ought to come in any day. The business of "discovering" legendary lost mines is never complete without this Golconda of the Colorado desert.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

GLUTTONITIS

In days of dim and distant yore—
According to tradition—
The nautilus and dinosaur
Dwelt in the sea and on the shore,
And waged a fierce and bitter war
For adequate nutrition.
But soon they vanished from the scene;
Predestined fate awaited them;
Their appetites were far too keen,
No Nature un-created them.

No more the pterydactyl screams
Where, when the world was younger,
At daylight's very earliest beams
He woke from his uneasy dreams
And fished the prehistoric streams
To sate his boundless hunger.
This curious blend of brute and bird
Had far too much capacity;
In fossil rocks he lies interred
Because of his rapacity.

And so beware, dear friends, if greed
Becomes too active in you.
The fate of these poor creatures heed
And eat no more than what you need
Your corporeal frame to feed,
And build flesh, bone and sinew.
The pterocera and terdian clan
Let hunger get the best of them,
And, if he's not more cautious, man
May perish like the rest of them.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE FUTILITARIANS

The three primary colors in the political paint-box are conservatism, liberalism, and radicalism.

Liberalism is being hard pressed just now, alike from the conservatives right and the radical left, with the contention that it is not tough-minded enough to deal with the issues of this disheveled phase of the world's life.

One of the most devastating portraits of the liberal as a futilitarian that has been lately drawn is from the pen of George S. Counts in his provocative little pamphlet called Dare the School Build a New Social Order?

Here are some of the elements that Mr. Counts puts into his portrait of the liberal:

He is a member of the comfortable upper middle class.

He has abandoned the faith of his fathers.

He assumes an agnostic attitude towards all important questions.

He prides himself on his open-mindedness and tolerance.

He can always be counted on to favor, in a mild sort of way, fairly liberal programs of social reconstruction.

He is full of good will and humane sentiment.

He is animated by vague aspirations for world peace and human brotherhood.

He can be counted on to respond moderately to any appeal made in the name of charity.

He is greatly distressed at the sight of any unusual forms of cruelty, misery, or suffering.

He is something of a buffer between the more brutal forces that really run the world.

He has no deep and abiding loyalties.

He has no convictions for which he would willingly suffer grave sacrifices.

He would find it hard to live without his customary material comforts.

He is not particularly sensitive to the accepted forms of social injustice.

He is content to play the role of interested spectator in the social conflicts of his time.

He refuses to see reality in its harsher and more disagreeable forms.

He rarely moves outside the pleasant circles of the class to which he belongs.

He will, in a time of trial, usually follow the lead of the most powerful and respectable forces of his society, and find reasons that convince him he is doing right in so following them.

Mr. Counts is convinced that the liberal—assuming that his portrait of him is drawn from the life—is and has proved himself incapable of dealing with any of the great crises of our times such as war, prosperity, and depression.

SEWING

"I wish you would tell me how to teach my daughter to sew. She is now twenty years old and cannot make her own dress. Maybe I ought not to say that. She does make her dresses when I compel her to do so. But she makes such a fuss and cries and the dress has to be ripped out and sewed again and next time it is the same old story. She hates to sew."

"I can sew anything and my second daughter is a wonderful needlewoman. Why can't I teach my oldest daughter to sew? She has graduated from college and is starting to work in a very nice position but that means more books. She loves books and nothing else. She reads and she wants to write and I tell her she must sew evenings instead of reading. She does enough of that daytimes. But it is a terrible struggle."

There is no reason under the sun why this girl should be bothered to death about sewing. Why should she sew? She can't sew. If she could she would without any compulsion. So long as she can't sew, no matter what pressure is brought to bear upon her. This girl is evidently very different from her sister and her mother. Why not? One good needlewoman is enough for any family. Let the other girl stick to her books. She will get farther with them. I know plenty of successful women who never sewed a seam in their lives and who in all likelihood, never will. What of it? Just because somebody else likes to sew is no reason why another somebody should suffer.

Sewing is an art once it gets beyond the button sewing and hemming stage. An artist is born with his gift within him, all ready to spring into action at the first hint of welcoming opportunity. No amount of teaching, drill, pressure, will make an artist out of an artisan. And trying to do this is so needless. What is the need? There is place for just so many needlewomen. The others must be allowed to do something else, even if the family never heard of such a thing as a writer in the family. They happen every once in a while. So do farmers and plumbers. Give each his chance with grudging and scorn toward none.

This happens often than you think between parents and children. Maybe it is happening in your own family. Maybe you are saying, "But you can't be a bee man. Nobody in our family ever was a bee man. You're positively
